Hi Gabriela,

As you make edits, we share Joanna's edits based on her notes. We look forward to see your recollection.

Thanks,
lene

Hi Lene,

Heads up/Update – I've been making edits to the draft notes Elizabeth provided (Thank you Elizabeth!) I think the detail Elizabeth captured of the discussion is really helpful.

To reduce the foreseeable iteration refinements, I'm inclined to delete the introductory and closing comments from AOC parties and focus the notes solely on the substance of the responses to questions.

I plan to send you revisions on Monday and imagine we'd forward your revised version to Navy after for Navy review and edits.

Josh Stout asked for the notes so he could review the items the Navy offered to get back to us to respond to detailed questions asked during the call. If we think the notes will take a while longer to get to him, then we may want to send him a short bullet point list.

Hi Gabriela,

Thanks for following up. I think the notetaking went well, my hands were definitely tired afterwards though! 😊

I think I got all of the acronyms, except for the name of the company the Navy is working with to research secondary containment (I highlighted my guesses at the name/acronym in yellow). However, if you see any corrections that need to be made feel free to let me know.

Notes are attached, let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you.

Best,
Elizabeth

Hi Elizabeth,

Thank you so much for taking notes during our call yesterday. How did it go for you? There was a lot of technical content discussed. If you have questions about acronyms used, etc. Feel free to reach out.

The Navy PMO has already emailed me today to ask when we have the draft notes available. When do you think you can get them to me?

Feel free to call or email if you have questions. Thank you!
